

Wednesday Morning Readers Author: Liz Hartley Wednesday Morning Readers meets on the fourth Wednesday of each month at 10:00 in the Jackson Chapel. Book selections are nominated by individual members, and then voted upon. The Wednesday Morning Reader member who nominates his/her book will lead the month's book discussion. We attempt to choose books at least three months in advance. Since we strive to keep our monthly discussions related to the book and associated topics, many Wednesday Morning Readers meet for lunch afterwards to socialize.
